Christe Redemptor omnium

In Nativitate Domini

1. Christ, Redeemer of all, From the Father, and the Father's only son, One, before the beginning, ineffably brought to birth: 2. You, the light, you the splendour of the Father, you, the perpetual hope of all: Attend to the prayers which your servants throughout the world pour forth. 3. Remember, author of salvation, how you once assumed the form of our body, being born of the unblemished Virgin, 4. Thus the present day bears witness, rolling on through the cycle of the year, That you alone, from the abode of the Father, have come as the salvation of the world. 5. Heaven, earth and sea, and all that is in them praise him, the author of your coming, exulting in song. 6. We too who have been redeemed by your sacred blood, celebrate the day of your birth with a new hymn. 7. Glory to you, O Lord, you who were born of a virgin, with the Father and the Holy Spirit, through endless ages. [Amen].
